

Firestone National Accounts Interface

Would a more efficient process for submitting Firestone claims help your business?

With TireMaster's interface to the Firestone National Accounts System (FNA), you can submit claims for national-account and government-support sales electronically. Electronic claim submission shrinks the amount of paperwork associated with managing your Firestone accounts and it helps you trim your postage expenses.

Less paperwork and smaller postage bills aren't the only benefits of using the Firestone National Accounts Interface. It helps you reduce rejected claims by prompting your sales personnel for required information at point of sale, and it includes an up-to-date listing of Firestone customers.

TireMaster and the Firestone National Accounts Interface help you:

- Submit claims quickly
- Minimize paperwork
- Trim postage expenses
- Reduce rejected claims
- Maintain current customer information
