

X-Charge®

When processing credit cards, would it help if your counter staff could reduce checkout times and eliminate errors?

With integrated card processing by X-Charge, both credit and debit cards can be processed quickly, easily, and without error. When a customer presents a credit or debit card at point of sale, you can launch the payment process in TireMaster, seamlessly move to X-Charge to capture the card information, and return to TireMaster to complete the invoice. Because you no longer need to enter the transaction in a separate card terminal, sales can be completed faster than before.

With X-Charge you send your customer home with a single receipt and quick approval time. Benefits for you include reduced processing fees, less auditing work, and a more professional image.

Using X-Charge also helps you comply with Payment Card Industry (PCI) regulations. Cardholder data is secured as soon as transactions occur and remains safe throughout the payment process. Once payments have been completed, X-Charge stores cardholder data for you in a secure off-site location so you don't have to keep it on your computers.

TireMaster and X-Charge help you:

- Reduce errors by eliminating manual data entry
- Speed up sale completion times
- Lower your processing fees
- Increase customer satisfaction
- Comply with PCI regulations
